

INVESTIGATION INTO DEATH OF BECK IS BEGUN

Inquest Held in Oklahoma
City Saturday Draws
Large Crowd.

AVIATORS PRESENT

Judge Day Who Killed
Army Officer Sticks To
His Story.

Oklahoma, City, April 8.—Flying against a drizzling rain—and sometimes a downpour—from the low hanging clouds, eight airplanes, spread in battle formation, swept into Oklahoma City this morning.

Their oil splattered pilots, up at down, "gave 'em the gun" grimly determined to win their fight on a battle field new to them—the civilian court room, where the body of their slain commander, Lieut. Col.
Paul Ward Beck, lay inquest.

Beck was shot and killed by Jean P. Day, former justice of the supreme court, and millionaire oil man, in the latter's home here in the small hours of Tuesday morning, after Day says
he found the airman in an attack upon his wife.

Since that hour all Oklahoma has taken sides in the case, Day's story is an age old tale—a story of misplaced trust.

Day, it was believed will not change his story before the inquest.
He will insist that he found Beck attacking his wife and that Beck was killed by accident when Day dealt him a blow over the head with the revolver.

It is to refute this story, the airmen who served under Beck's command at Fort Sill's aviation field, have come to the inquest. They are headed by Beck's son and by his nephew, Lieut. John W. Beck, whose father—Colonel Beck's brother—was slain under mysterious circumstances several years ago.

One of the largest crowds ever attending a court inquiry here is expected to seek admittance to the inquest room.

Twelve witnesses have been called.
Day himself will testify. His wife, also will tell of the events preceding the tragedy. She will say, however that from the moment she saw her husband, revolver in hand, her mind is a blank as to the actual shooting of the airman.

Mrs. Rachel Beck, 77 years old, mother of the slain man, arrived
here for a last view of her son's body this morning. She was accompanied by the wives of Army officers from Fort Sill.

"It is not true—it cannot be true," Mrs. Beck said, crying softly. "My boy could not do the thing they say." The airman's mother is a tragic figure.

Her years rest heavily upon her.
Her life has been a series of tragedies—"tragic milestones which dot
my weary path," she said.

A pioneer of the early west—an army man's wife, in the distant Indian fighting days of Oklahoma, Mrs.
Beck settled at Fort Sill. Her husband died. Then she wed Brig. General William Beck.

Mrs. Beck will not attend the inquest.

WOMAN AIDS IN ROBBING FLATS

Mrs. Gertrude Hartung, pretty wife of Paul Hartung, confessed Chicago burglar, has told police how she acted as a "lookout" and wheeling her baby as a blind, walked up and down in front of fashionable North Side Chicago apartment houses while her husband prowled
as a burglar inside. The baby buggy she is said to have declared, was used to haul away loot from fifty flats.

Shoots Wife and Turns Gun On Self; May Live

Zanesville, O., April 8.—Mrs.
Harry Morgan is in Good Samaritan hospital today in critical condition
as a result of being shot late yesterday afternoon by her husband, Harry Morgan, ex-soldier who afterwards
turned the gun on himself.

Morgan is also in Good Samaritan hospital but is expected to recover unless complications develop.

The shooting followed the refusal

Rose Coghlan, Actress,
Almost Destitute.

Rose Coghlan, for nearly fifty years one of the brightest stars in American theatricals, is almost destitute in New York. Defective memory makes it impossible for her to hold anything but very poor roles.
Otto Kahn and David Belasco have rallied to the aid of Miss Coghlan
and a public benefit will be given for her.

NOT AUTHORIZED TO END STOCK SELLING SAYS PRICE RULING

Decision Affects Officials
of Blue Sky Department of Ohio.

Columbus, April 8.—Officials of the state blue sky department are not authorized to put an end to the practice of a number of stock selling companies of selling all the preferred stock and letting the promoters retain most of the non-par common stock which possesses special value.

This ruling has just been given by Attorney General Price to State Director of Commerce Phipps.

Officials of the blue sky department had hoped to act under the law decreed that "at no time shall the amount of preferred stock at par value exceed two thirds of the actual capital paid in cash or property."
But the attorney general held that this law applies only to par value shares and not to the new non par value act of 1919.

Attorney General Price recommended that the attention of the next state legislature be directed to defects in the non-par value law.

TWENTY FIVE DEAD AS WIND AND RAIN SWEEPS OVER TEXAS

Dallas, Tex., April 8.—Heavy winds of cyclonic velocity and rain-storms swept north Texas and southern Oklahoma early today causing the death of about 25 persons and immense property loss, according to meagre reports received here. Tornadoes were reported at Cisco where Mrs. R. W. Turner, was probably fatally injured and one other woman is in a serious condition, at Ardmore
and Lawton, Okla., where it was reported 14 persons lost their lives; Wichita Falls, Ranger and other north Texas towns reporting heavy damage. One man was injured, three houses blown down and a portion of the Catholic church demolished at Ranger.

Ballinger, Texas, reported six people killed and Dothan, in Eastland county, reported a cloudburst.
The Millings Sanitarium at Cisco
was completely wrecked but no loss of life reported.

The left field wall of the Marine baseball park in Dallas was blown down and part of the roof of the grand stand ripped off.

Brownwood reported a cyclone near Rowena. Runnels county and 14 persons were killed and much property damaged.

REGAINING HEALTH

Cleveland, April 8.—Mrs. Hugh L.
Nichols, of Batavia, wife of the former chief justice of the Ohio supreme court, is resting comfortably at a Cleveland hospital after an operation.
Mrs. Nichols has been in poor health for several months and it is said that as a result of the operation
she will entirely recover.

Mrs. Morgan to again live with her husband following a separation
in Columbus about six weeks ago.

After being taken to the hospital
Morgan was frustrated in a second attempt to commit suicide, when a nurse found a two ounce bottle of carbolic acid between the sheets and mattress of his bed.

It is thought he planned to drink
the deadly liquid when left alone.

CHANGE OF MIND SAVES LIVES OF TWO AMERICANS

Had Decided to Make Trip
on ill-fated Plane
From London

SIX ARE KILLED

Express Craft Collide 70
Miles North of Paris
Late Friday.

London, April 8.—A last minute change of mind probably saved the lives of two American women who were booked to make the trip in the Paris airplane machine which collided with another machine with the loss of six lives, it was learned today.
The women are Mrs. T. Berst and Miss Lock. They said that they had intended to fly to Paris but changed their plans on account of the foggy condition of the weather.

The Daimler company, which operated the English machine, had no planes running today on account of mist.

Mrs. Berst is a resident of Erie, Pa.
She was accompanied on her trip by her daughter, Louise. Mrs. Berst knew the Yales and tried to persuade them that flying was not safe in foggy weather. Her fears were ridiculed.

Paris, April 8.—Six persons were killed yesterday when airplanes on the Paris-London aerial express route
collided over the village of Thieulloy, 70 miles north of Paris, and crashed to earth.

The Dead Are.

BRUCE YALE, a New York exporter, and his wife, who were homeward bound by way of England in the French machine.

M. BOURIEZ, another passenger in
the French machine.

AVIATOR MIRE, pilot of the French machine.

MIRE'S MECHANIC.

Cabin boy of English machine.

The entire personnel of both machines except Pilot R. E. Duke of the English craft, met death, either in the crash or in the flames that followed it.

Duke was seriously injured. It was asserted that the American victims of the disaster had registered at a Paris hotel as Mr. and Mrs.
Christopher Bruce.

The British machine had only been in use three days on the express route. It belonged to a new company operating a Paris-London service.

The accident occurred during a fog,
the pilot, seeing each other too late to avoid a collision.

Five persons from the machine were dead when inhabitants of the village of Thieulloy arrived on the scene shortly after the crash, and the sixth victim was dying.

FIRST STRIKE ARREST IN SECTION MADE

Wheeling, W. Va., April 8.—The first arrest in the Pan-handle district of West Virginia in the coal strike occurred at Benwood when John Mooiak, alleged strike sympathizer, was taken by a deputy sheriff
for an assault upon a non-union
miner.

In Marshall county, two mines are working 35 and 15 per cent respectively, all others being closed.

TO START HORSES.

Stephen G. Phillips, of Piqua and Zanesville, formerly of this city, has been booked to start the horses at both the Grand Circuit meetings at North Randall, Cleveland, this summer, it has been announced. Mr. Phillips has had previous experience
starting the steppers on the Grand Circuit.

CLOUD BURST COMES

Wheeling, W. Va., April 8.—At 3 o'clock this morning a near cloud burst drenched the Ohio valley, with
.94 of an inch registered at Wheeling.

PUBLIC TAUGHT TO WATCH FOR BETTER GRADES

Through advertising it might be said that the public has been taught to look for the better grades of merchandise—to seek those goods that QUALITY has branded as desirable.

Yet, price, in itself, is not a substitute for quality, and likewise quality, standing alone, is not the most important factor.

But a price that is honestly justified together with quality that is a nearly perfect as honest
goods and honest workmanship
can make it, forms a combination that will work wonders in a sales way.

PROVIDING, however, that through intelligent newspaper advertising this combination is emphatically, interestingly and persistently made known to the buying public.

He Did His Best to Stop
Sherman's March to Sea

His "darndest" efforts were exerted during the Civil War to stop Sherman's march to the sea. That was way back in the "sixties." C. C. Holcombe of Carl, Ga., however, is still spry, despite his ninety-nine years.

LENINE TO SPEND TIME AT GENOA IF HEALTH IS O. K.

Russian Statesman Says
His Country Will Take Active Part

Genoa, April 8.—Nicolai Lenine will come to Genoa if his presence is needed here and his health permits.
This declaration was made today by George Tchitcherin, commissar for foreign affairs in the Moscow soviet government and head of the Russian delegation to the international economic conference.

"We have practical proposals to make on every point that may be made under the Genoa agenda," said
the Russian statesman. "We are going to take an active part in all discussions. If Lenine is needed he will be here; that is if his health will permit him to make the trip. The primitive condition of our wireless plant at Moscow will make communication difficult and may delay the proceedings at the conference."

CHIEF ACTORS IN NEW "LOVE DUEL"

Col. Thompson has had a long and varied career as a public official.
Born in Lawrence County 51 years ago, he had to go to work early and his first job was that of a trapper boy in the southern Ohio mines. He is a graduate of the Ohio State University, served three terms as city solicitor of Ironton; two terms as member of the lower house of the Ohio general assembly, in the last term being speaker of that body; four years as secretary of state of Ohio
and was appointed successively by President Taft as assistant secretary of the interior, secretary to the president and treasurer of the United States. President Harding appointed him a member of the advisory committee to the recent Washington armament conference and as chairman of the subcommittee on new methods and new weapons of warfare he drafted a resolution, which was later adopted by the powers represented prohibiting the use of poison gases in warfare.

Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith of Zanesville. Senator Arthur H. Day of Cleveland; Speaker Rupert R.
Beetham, of Cadiz, and C. Homer Durand, a Coshocton lawyer have heretofore announced that they will seek the Republican nomination. It is expected that within the next few days Congressman Knight of Akron will announce, while friends say that former Congressman Roscoe McCulloch, of Canton, a candidate two years ago, when Gov. Harry L. Davis won out in a three-cornered fight will likewise shy his castor into the ring.
It is not believed, however, that James A. White, Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League will become a candidate, despite statements from Columbus indicating the possibility.

On the Democratic side, former state auditor A. V. Donahy, of New Philadelphia, thus far has the field to himself, but this condition will not continue long, men high in the party here are very tense as well as upon the Ulster frontier. Tension in Dublin was intensified by an attack last night upon the headquarters of the Irish free state troops.

C. A. THOMPSON CANDIDATE FOR OHIO GOVERNOR

Cleveland Saturday Announces He Will Seek Nomination.

FIFTH TO ENTER

Has Had Long Career In Public Service of Country.

Cleveland, O., April 8.—Stressing the duty of loyalty to the national administration and placing success of the Republican party at the polls in November ahead of "the ambition of any person for leadership," Colonel Carmel A. Thompson, of Cleveland, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor of Ohio.

In making his announcement which was in the form of a letter to D. C.
Davies, of Ironton, chairman of the Republican executive committee of Lawrence County, Col. Thompson's
old home, the candidate did not outline a definite platform on state issues, pointing out, "there are many state issues, which will be covered in our party platform to be adopted in accordance with law, after the primaries, and upon that platform the Republican candidate for governor must ultimately stand."

"If I did not feel that my business experience and my familiarity with public affairs would enable me to render service to the state, I would not seek this nomination," Col.
Thompson declared. "Any voter, in casting his or her vote at the primaries, should consider solely the good of the party, the good of the state and the good of the nation."

"There are many distinctly state issues which will be covered in our party platform, to be adopted, in accordance with law, after the primaries, and upon that platform the Republican candidate for governor must ultimately stand, but national issues cannot and should not be excluded from the campaign. Ohio's Republican president is looking to his own state for approval and earnest support of the manner in which he has borne the great responsibility, and conducted the affairs of the national administration during the most trying period since the civil war."

Col. Thompson has had a long and
varied career as a public official.

ROSS TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL GIVES BANQUET FRIDAY

Members of the Ross Township High School basketball team, Coach W. R. Collins and members of the Ross Township Independents, were honor guests at a banquet given by students and teachers of the high school Wednesday evening.

The banquet was given in the school gymnasium, and there were covers for 65 people. Superintendent Collins acted as toastmaster after the banquet, captains and managers of the teams responding promptly with brief talks, including a talk by Prof. C. W. Hemmer, cheer leader. Surprising Coach Collins a beautiful gold watch chain was presented to him by Walter Cummings in behalf of the high school teams.

Ross Township High teams enjoyed a successful basketball season this year, the girls attaining the most success on the court by winning 12 out of 15 games, and defeating every girls' high school team in the county by large scores. Near the end of the season, after winning 12 straight games, the sextette took a serious slump. Injuries to two members of the team and an epidemic of mumps which attacked every girl on the team, caused the slump and cost the team two games and the county championship.

The girls piled up a total of 470 points during the season, to 81 scored by their opponents, before going into the tournament. The scores of the girls' games follow: Ross 33, Osborn 4; Ross 32, Beaver Creek 2; Ross 59, Bellbrook 1; Ross 74, Caesar Creek 1; Ross 74, Bath Tp. 4; Ross 14, Beaver Creek 5; Ross 15, Jamestown 4; Ross 19, Jamestown 5; Ross 29, Cedarville 11; Ross 40, Bellbrook 0; Ross 28, Bath 7; Ross 29, Yellow Springs 5; Ross 9, Cedarville 14; Ross 16, Yellow Springs 17; Ross 5, Cedarville 8 (tournament).

A FRIEND IN NEED A FRIEND INDEED

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Calif.—"I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it off and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and I read it through and got the medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took eight bottles and used the Sanative Wash. I at once began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them what it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a friend indeed, for you were a friend in need."

Diet Menus in Hotels

A New York hotel is trying an experiment so important that I wish every hotel in the country would follow its example. It compiles every day a special menu card on which several different diets are listed.

If you are on a particular sort of diet if you are suffering from any special complaint, or if you have any tendency towards certain physical troubles you will find the right foods selected here for you.

Diet No. 1 is for those suffering from intestinal irregularities. Diet No. 2 is for fat people and contains only thinning foods. Diet No. 3 is for diabetes.

Hyperacidity and such troubles are catered for by Diet 4.

Diet No. 5 is for colitis, malnutrition, underweight people and convalescents. Being of simple, easily digestible, nourishing foods, this is also particularly recommended for children.

Diet No. 6 is for arterio-sclerosis, high blood pressure, faulty kidneys or for those of advanced age or for those who have angina-pectoris.

Diet No. 7 is for those suffering from rheumatism, gout or neuritis.

Each menu varies with every meal, and each is scientifically compiled by a diet specialist. If the guest knows the number of the class he falls under all he need do is to whisper to the waiter that he wants diet number so and so.

Bessie—After massaging the chin a simple treatment can be used to close the pores and harden the skin. This may be done by dashing cold water over the chin and neck followed by gentle friction from a coarse towel or just an ice rub, until the skin glows. Witch-hazel is another mild astringent. A powerful astringent is made from one part white of the egg to six parts water. This is painted over the skin and retained for 20 minutes while it contracts the pores.

Mrs. S.—If you send me a stamped addressed envelope, I shall be glad to mail you a diet chart as there is not space to publish such a list of foods at this time.

B. I. A.—After the pores have become distended, it takes a long time to get any permanent results in contracting them. Professional treatments will hasten this improvement, but you can help yourself with this if you always close the pores after bathing, by dashing very cold water over the face and throat.

AN ARTISTIC BUNGALOW DESIGNED BY CHAS. S. SENGWICK

THE CALIFORNIA TYPE of bungalow is popular in the east and the above model will likely appeal to many who are planning to build a bungalow home. The Californians have gotten the bungalow plans down to a fine point, so it is little wonder that they are being copied by Eastern home builders, as practically no detail is forgotten, thus combining beauty and grace of line with comfort and convenience.

The bungalow home shown to day has an exterior finish of "Textured" brick to window sills with stucco above. The corner piers of cobble stones and a wide brick terrace give it the rugged, artistic appearance that is the secret pride of the home builder. There is but one main floor with an attic above that is meant for storage purposes only. However, there is a full basement with laundry, furnace room, etc., so that there cannot be the objection raised that it squats right on the ground, as so many modern bungalows do. All the rooms are exceptionally well lighted. There are two bed rooms and bath room which are separated from the living quarters of the house by a hallway, thus gaining privacy, and there is a large living room with open fireplace, a sun room, directly off from it, a dining room, with a charming group of windows assuring it always of being a bright sunny spot, and in the rear a pantry, a modern kitchen and a service porch with room on it for a refrigerator. There is ample closet space, including a linen closet in the hall, and the dining room is featured by a built-in buffet, just as they are in California. The living room has a built-in book case and an attractive grouping of windows which overlook the bricked terrace.

The living room, dining room and sun room are finished in mahogany, the bed rooms in ivory and the kitchen in white enamel. Between $5,000 and $6,500 would be required to build this home, exclusive of the plumbing and heating, according to the architect's estimate.

C. OF C. TO ABANDON OFFICE QUARTERS

Reports in circulation Saturday said that the Chamber of Commerce would abandon the quarters occupied in the Ed S. Foust building, E Main Street, next week.

Although members of the board of directors were reluctant to discuss the situation, it is understood that because of the over head expenses attached to keeping up such large quarters that the rooms will be abandoned and the furniture stored for the present.

Board members say that the action does not mean dissolution of the organization which came into existence as an outgrowth of the Xenia Business Men's Association, two years ago last September, but that it will continue to exist and its officers and directors will continue to function. The rooms will be vacated next Saturday, it is said.

HARDING WILL NOT IMPAIR U. S. CIVIL SERVICE OPERATION

Washington, April 8.—Any intention by President Harding to impair the operation of the civil service law was specifically disclaimed by White House officials yesterday after the president's recent bureau of engraving dismissals again had been the target of Democratic attacks.

The intention of the chief executive it was said by officials, in his confidence, was not in any sense to break down the spirit or the letter of the civil service regulations, but rather to improve the efficiency of governmental machinery under those regulations.

The president was said to take the position that as head of the government, he is responsible for efficient governmental administration. If there is anything in the civil service that tends to tie the hands of the executive, it was said, it will be looked into, but without any effort to undermine or attack the civil service system.

It was also asserted that there is no intention at present of changing the method of selecting the postmasters under the presidential appointment. The system under which the present administration is working, that is of taking one of the three highest under a competitive examination, is regarded by the White House as giving, on the whole, fairly good satisfaction.

The administration recognizes that there is considerable criticism in some quarters over the present method of selecting postmasters, however, and officials suggested that if there was too much irritation the president might be forced to withdraw some postmaster from under the modified civil service plan.

An alternative had been suggested, it was added, for the president, in case the irritation increased, to withdraw the first, second and third class postmasters from the civil service, where they were placed by executive order, and to have persons desiring appointment as postmasters to take a civil service examination upon recommendation of their congressmen so that postmasters could be named from this list.

It was made clear, however, that the administration had no intention of abandoning the present system.

Democrat senators yesterday renewed their attack on the administration's civil service record with renewed complaint against the bureau of engraving dismissals, which in turn were defended by Republican senators.

Mauve is a shade much in evidence, as is also apricot. And as to silhouette, you may have your choice of the gracefully draped effects of Greek inspiration.

HARDING AIMS AT BIG SHAKE-UP.

The Harding Administration, undeterred by the din which has followed the dismissal of the executive heads of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, has determined upon a policy of ridding the Treasury Department of McAdoo appointees and placing the jobs in the hands of individuals who will work in harmony with the existing Government.

A clean-up of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, in which scores of minor officials there and in other departments who took office in wartime and were placed in civil service by the Wilson Administration, will lose their jobs, in sight, unless the President alters what is said to be his present attitude.

A state of chaos, Administration officials assert, exists in the Revenue Bureau, which has aroused the resentment of the business interests of the country, Republican and Democratic alike. The bureau is eighteen months behind in its work, and the Government finds itself unable to collect nearly $1,000,000 in taxes due from accounts which have not been adjusted.

Business interests owing those amounts and knowing the great bulk of them must be paid eventually, are vainly endeavoring to reach a settlement with the Government through the red tape and what is said to be the gross inefficiency of the tax units.

Senator New, of Indiana, leading the defense, said: "There were good and sufficient reasons for the action of the President. Whether or not they will be made public I do not know, but the lamentations of the Democrats are merely because a great many of the faithful are about to be separated from Government positions."

"There never was a more partisan Administration than that which went out of office in 1921," he continued. "The Government departments are filled up with incompetents. A business man coming to Washington and trying to reach the head of a department had to elbow his way through a crowd of underlings like the crowd around a circus ticket office. It is like a salmon run in Alaska in the spring."

$150,000 FROM CARNEGIE FUND TO REBUILD TOWN IN FRANCE.

Senator D'Estournelles de Constant, president of the European Center of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace, Paris, announced to correspondents the gift of $150,000, or approximately 1,600,000 francs, which the New York headquarters designated to be used in the reconstruction of a town in the devastated area.

The Minister of Devastated Regions chose the town of Fargniers, in the Aisne district, which is in the area that is still a total ruin, as suitable for the project, and it is planned to commence work immediately. The town will be built after the trustees' plans for a model French town, having a central square where the main routes converge and flanked by a town hall, schools, theater, library, baths and adorned with public monuments. Contrary to the plan of most French towns, which group the houses in rows about the church, each building will be detached, with lawns and gardens between.

Fargniers, two hours north of Paris, was decorated with the Croix de Guerre for its valiant defense. Only a few of its walls are left. Ambassador Herrick will place the first stone in July.

Other recent gifts of the Foundation to France include the sum of 3,000,000 francs to rebuild the library at Rheims, a library to the University of Paris and 5,000,000 francs to the French red fund. Senator Constant, expressing deep gratitude for France and for the people of Fargniers, declared the object of the Foundation in promoting international peace was never better realized than in the service of rebuilding homes. He explained that the people of the town were insistent on calling the main square "Place Carnegie."

LINCOLN'S APPEAL FOR LOYALTY TO LAW.

Let every American, every lover of liberty, every well wisher to his posterity, swear never to violate in the least particular the laws of the country, and never to tolerate their violation by others. As the patriots of seventy-six did to the support of the Declaration of Independence, so to the support of the Constitution and laws let every American pledge his life, his property and his sacred honor. Let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father, and to tear the charter of his own and his children's liberty. Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap; let it be taught in schools, in seminaries, and in colleges; let it be written in primers, spelling books and almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in the legislative halls, and enforced in courts of justice.

THE OBERLIN COLLEGE ELM.

What interesting stories could be told if, for instance, a hundred year-old tree could speak the American language. The famous Oberlin College Elm could tell things of an historical character that would fill a volume. Beneath this tree in the year 1833—eighty-nine years ago—was built the first little log cabin, destined later to become the beginning of Oberlin College, which is now the leading Congregational school of the world. The tree is located at the corner of the campus and is beloved by every student of the institution.

Oberlin was the first college in the world to admit women with men. That was considered a remarkable departure in the conduct of educational affairs at that time. Men and women, who are now snowy-haired grandparents, can happily recall the joyous days when they sat beneath this giant old elm.

When Oberlin College was started on its career, within the shade of this tree, the entire countryside was pretty much a howling wilderness. Today this progressive college has a student body of 1,600, and an endowment fund of $7,200,000. Its graduates may be found in every State in the Union and every country on earth. Two of them at present occupy prominent positions in public life at Washington—Theodore E. Burton, member of the House of Representatives, and Wayne B. Wheeler, attorney for the Anti-Saloon League of America.

State Legislature of Delaware has handed down a decision that every man and woman over 21 years of age residing in that State must pay a filing fee of three dollars at the time of making income tax returns. This necessitates every adult making an income tax return whether he or she has an income or not. The revenue derived from these fees is to be devoted to the schools in the State.

Rippling Rhymes

OUTCLASSED.

When Ananias was on deck he sprung his falsehoods day by day; he strove to make the truth a wreck, succeeding, in a modest way. He did his best, and if his best was cheap, compared with modern curves, we should not flout him with a jest, denying praise that he deserves. We should not greet with ribald jeers the liars of an age gone by; we should not scorn the pioneers who first discovered how to lie. There were no oil stocks to be sold when Ananias blazed the way; there were no salted mines where gold was shown—come-ons every day. There were no offices in sight, no candidates the snaps desired; there were no burbling blurs to write, in praise of books that made men tired. Financial wizards didn't sell blue sky to boobs unknown to fame, and so there was no chance to tell a falsehood worthy of the name. There were no yearly almanacs in which to boost some wooden pills; men knew not how to dodge a tax, or sidestep merchants' monthly bills. The world was then a simple place where people toiled and paid their debts, and it is surely no disgrace if Ananias missed some bets. He bravely warred against the truth, with tireless if misguided zest, and if his efforts were uncouth, he surely tried to do his best.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

WE GO!

Austin Dobson, the English poet, once wrote a most unusual couplet, full of meaning. Here it is:

"Time Goes, you say? Ah, No!
Alas, time stays. We go!"

Like single members in a procession, we tread on. Our little acts and efforts are what we leave for Time to play with as it will.

But WE go! Into an eternity of which we know nothing.

And yet our intelligence teaches us that we have nothing to fear and everything to hope for. And every worthy act or thought which we give out in this life is a preparation for the way ahead.

was in a Florida city at the time that an Indian Chief of the tribe was shot by an unknown assassin. The incident gave me much to think about, but the picture that has stayed with me is that of the dead Chieftain's friend. On being asked for information as to the last moments of the Chief, he replied, "Him go on long sleep. Him all right."

We are all going toward a long sleep. Every rising sun tells us that this is true. But it also tells us that it is all right.

We go!
But time stays to shape out, and complete the things which we have so feebly started.

The fact, however, that we should not be able to see our work in its completed form should not discourage us in the least. No man ever left his life work completed. What we have done stays. We go.

Keats, Shelley, Byron, Pope, Burns, were hardly more than boys when they died. But they, work stayed with Time and will last as long as Time stays with human being.

We go.
Let us keep going in better heart!

PHYSICIAN IS FINED

FOR AUTO VIOLATION

Because he forgot that he did not have his license tags on his automobile, Dr. A. C. Messenger, of this city, president of the Greene County Automobile Club, was fined $25 and costs in municipal court, Dayton.

Dr. Messenger had had his car in the repair shop and was using his license plates on the machine he was using while his own was being repaired. When he obtained his own car he forgot to have the license plates changed.

In front of a Dayton department store, a burly cop told the local automobile club president that he was under arrest. It was not until reminded that he remembered that he did not have a license tag on either the front or rear of his machine.

BELIEVE METEOR WAS SEEN

BY LOCAL PEOPLE FRIDAY

What is believed to have been a falling meteor with a fiery tail attached, attracted the attention of Xenia people Friday night. The meteor fell in the west about 8:15 o'clock lighting up the heavens as it dropped.

Owing to the difference in the hours, there is probably no connection between the meteor seen by local people, and the red ball of fire that fell Friday on a farm near Fostoria, bursting as it fell, and leaving a hole in the ground four feet deep.

The stock and fixtures of the cigar store and barber shop of Rufus Mullen, E. Main St., were sold at bankruptcy sale Saturday morning to Mrs. Mullen's sister, Mrs. Sallie Eyer, by J. K. Williamson, trustee in bankruptcy.

The property sold for $2,488, the bid being the only one received. The keys to the property were immediately turned over to the new owner, and the store opened in charge of William Eyer.

OSBORN AND BATH MAY UNITE SCHOOL DISTRICTS BY VOTE

Osborn Village and Bath Township school districts will vote on centralization of schools which will mean unification of the two school districts some time within the next 30 days.

This decision was reached by the County Board of Education at its meeting Friday afternoon at the office of County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Aultman, after hearing a committee of citizens from Bath Township members of the Bath Grange and representatives of the school boards.

At present Osborn Village and Bath Township school districts are operated separately, but it is claimed, that owing to present conditions, neither can hope to continue to maintain a first grade high school much longer, necessitating action of some kind, to keep the standard of the schools up.

For this reason the joint boards are proposing consolidation of the two school districts, the establishment of a centralized school and the erection of a new high school building in the village. At the special election to be held sometime within the next 30 days however, centralization will be the only proposition submitted, and if it carries, the question of a bond issue to carry out the plan, will be submitted to the electors later.

The County Board did not consider the single petition filed by residents of New Jasper Township School district, asking for transfer to another school district, at the meeting Friday, and no other petitions besides that one were filed with the board although a number of New Jasper township residents were present at the meeting.

The board adjourned to meet next Friday afternoon at one o'clock at which time it will consider the petition presented asking for transfer, and signed by four property owners, and also all other petitions asking for transfer that may be filed before that time.

AMERICAN SOCIETY CIVIL ENGINEERS CLOSES SESSION

Dayton, O., April 8.—The American Society Civil Engineers closed its annual session last night following an afternoon of thrills at McCook Field. The afternoon program consisted of demonstrations of radio controlled automobile, radio messages from an airplane 3,000 feet in the air, tail spins and nose dives and a lot of other aerial stunts. Parachutes were demonstrated and pilots put forty different airplanes through their paces to show the engineers what could be done.

FRUIT BUDS ARE IN GOOD SHAPE INQUIRY SHOWS

Everything is set for one of Ohio's biggest crops of fruit and the prospects now depend on the weather. The most critical season for fruit is during the next few weeks when the buds and blossoms are exposed to late frosts and freezes so that no prediction can be made at this early date of the probable size of the apple, peach, pear, cherry and plum crops. All we can be sure of at this time is that the trees and buds have come through the winter in good condition and if the weather is favorable all indications point to a heavy crop. In only a few sections of the State are adverse conditions found according to reports received by C. J. West, Agricultural Statistician for the State-Federal Crop Reporting Service.

In sections around Toledo the peach prospects were seriously damaged by the cold weather in January though along the Lake Shore and on the Islands no damage is reported. In the Southern parts of the State the buds are somewhat in advance of the normal development at this time of year which means that a frost is likely to cause severe damage. There is a possibility that scale may be worse this year as spraying in some orchards was neglected last year because of the small fruit crop.

We Know Batteries Like a Book!

Repairing batteries may look easy—but it isn't!

To be successful, a repair man has to know just how to handle the plates that hold the active material that keeps life in the battery. He has to know how to take care of the insulators that keep the plates apart. He has to know when it is cheaper for you to buy a new battery than to have the old one repaired.

Bring your battery in to Headquarters—no matter whether it's a Willard or not. We'll tell you what it needs, if anything, how much the cost will be—and whether Chapter 13.

He had promised to write!

In that fact lay all the joy of Gertrude's days after Tom Norris left. She glanced rather helplessly through the books he had given her; then she earnestly began to study them as he had advised. But constantly she found her mind wandering. She would look at the marks he had made on the margin instead of at the printed matter. His hand had made the marks.

But gradually she grew less sentimental. She put all but the dictionary and the English book away, and concentrated upon the two. Often she got 12 year old Jennie to help her, nor did she scorn Tim's proffered suggestions. Her schooling had been an erratic thing. Kept home to take care of the younger children; going only just enough to escape the truant officer does not tend to lay a very good foundation for an education; less for a self-taught one.

It had not been that Mrs. Cummings would not have liked to keep Gertrude in school, she was just unable to. Poverty, sickness, small children, death of the family's wage earner often compel even people who are ambitious for their children to impose hardships upon them. Since the father died, not until Gertrude was earning money to add to that her mother took in from her fine laundry work had the family been comfortable. But even so they were very poor. It was almost impossible to make ends meet; keep three younger children decently dressed and in school. It would have been impossible but for Gertrude.

Often Lilly said to her: "You give up too much! Gosh, Gertrude, you work hard, why don't you hold out more on them and have something decent to wear?"

"Can't Lilly! Tim is always needing shoes and Annie and Jennie have to be kept nice or they feel ashamed. I ain't—ain't—" she couldn't think a word, so went on, "I ain't got no notion of lettin' them be made ashamed if I can help it. They'll have to work soon enough. Jennie wants to be a school teacher."

"Oh, she does! Just a little thing like that! Well, I'll tell the world that if she was my sister and I workin' like you do, she'd get out and get a job in a store or something after she gets out of Grammar School. It's wicked for you to send her to High School on your earnings, a darn shame."

"But education is everything, Lilly! If I was educated I wouldn't have to dance in that cafe every night. I hate the place!"

Tom told her that education meant everything so she had passed the remark on to Lilly as she had many of his similar remarks.

That night Jones, the assistant at the cafe told Gertrude the manager wanted to see her after she finished her dancing. She turned pale. Was she to lose her position?

"Don't look so scared," he said, laughing. "You ain't going to lose your job! He winked at her, and if you is nice to me, why you'll get somethin' good," he took hold of Gertrude and drew her toward him.

Gertrude jerked away! "I ain't nice to anybody in the way you mean!" she said rather roughly. "Oh, you ain't! What about that guy that's been coming here every night, and takin' you ridin' in that roadster of his? Never let him kiss you, did you?" A sneer in the words and on his face.

"No, I never did! But that ain't your business!" refined use of words meant nothing to her in talking to Jones.

"Goin' to marry him I suppose!" "None of your business whether I am or not!"

"Don't be a fool, or take me for one," he snarled. "Them kind an' marry cheap cabaret girls. You better forget him and be nice to me!" "Get out of my way," the music had commenced.

"I may be a cabaret girl, but I ain't cheap!" Gertrude flung at him as she hurried on to the floor.

Had Jones dared he would have discharged her, but after the way the owner of the place, his boss had talked he didn't care. But he wasn't the sort to forget. His face was not good to see as his eyes followed Gertrude.

The dance over Gertrude sought the proprietor.

"You wanted to see me, Mr. Rosenburg?"

"Yes, come in, and sit down. I've been thinkin' of raising your salary—not much but a little. How's that strike you?"

"I should be glad of more money," Gertrude never had liked the man, although she had not had cause to dislike him as she did Jones, who on more than one occasion had made disagreeable overtures to her.

"Well, just put our name to that piece of paper there and it's yours. He pointed to a legal looking paper before her.
